¹Expenses with Contractual Waiver through September 30, 2022. Without the fee waiver performance would likely be lower. Without the fee waiver performance would likely be lower. ²Definitions of terms: "30-day SEC yield" is a standard yield calculation developed by the Securities and Exchange Commission that allows investors to more fairly compare funds. ³30-day SEC yield (unsubsidized) is what the 30-day SEC yield would have been without the contractual fee waiver. The "weighted average maturity" (WAM) of a portfolio is the average time, in years, it takes for the bonds in a bond fund or portfolio to mature. WAM is calculated by weighting each bond's time to maturity by the size of the holding. Portfolios with longer WAMs are generally more sensitive to changes in interest rates. The "weighted average coupon" of a bond fund is arrived at by weighting the coupon of each bond by its relative size in the portfolio. Information stated relates to the long positions only, except for Net Modified Duration. ⁴The cost of the interest rate hedge (using Treasury futures) is reflected in the NAV, not in the yields. ⁵Returns are based on the composite closing price and do not represent the returns you would receive if you traded shares at other times. The first trading date is typically several days after the fund inception date. Therefore, NAV is used to calculate market returns prior to the first trade date. ⁶NAV total returns for the fund are used to calculate Growth of $10,000. ©2021 PSA 2020-2440

Investing involves risk, including the possible loss of principal. ProShares are generally non-diversified and entail certain risks, including risk associated with the use of derivatives (swap agreements, futures contracts and similar instruments), imperfect benchmark correlation, leverage and market price variance. These risks may pose risks different from, or greater than, those associated with a direct investment in the securities underlying the funds' benchmarks, can increase volatility, and may dramatically decrease performance. Unlike many traditional bond funds, this ETF is not designed to provide steady income. The level of the index (and this fund) will fluctuate based on changes in the price of the underlying bonds, not their yields. The returns of this fund will be more directly linked to percentage changes in the index than to percentage changes in breakeven inflation ("BEI"). The index is not designed to measure the realized rate of inflation, nor does it seek to replicate the returns of any index or measure of actual consumer price levels. Additional factors besides inflation expectations, such as liquidity and risk premiums, can materially affect BEI levels. Please see the summary and full prospectuses for a more complete description of risks. There is no guarantee any ProShares ETF will achieve its investment objective.

ProShares may invest in equity securities and/or financial instruments (including derivatives) that, in combination, should have similar daily price return characteristics to the fund's benchmark. Derivative contracts are priced to include the underlying index yield and will not generate dividend income. Because ProShares invest in derivatives and other financial instruments, their dividend distributions may not reflect those of their applicable indexes.
